Dear TPC,
I was placed in Oracle last year in November. We had a challenging online test which I got through. I was called to their office for an in-person interview. The interview room buzzed with anticipation as challenging questions were posed. My mind raced piecing together solutions. With each answer, my confidence was built & I finally got the results late evening.

I thank TPC for getting in better companies when the other colleges weren't even getting any placements. Thank you, TPC. The interview day was full of surprises and the dimaze at evening was a happy way to end the day.
